When You Buy SHOES

Is it a question of how little I can pay, or How much value can I get for every dollar I pay?

Do you buy Quantity or Quality? Every pair of Shoes in this store is built on the quality standard—every possible thing that means more quality, more service, more value, is crowded into it. So—if you buy your new shoes here, even though they cost you a little more—the increased cost means big measure of the increased value, and you will remember the better quality long after the increased cost is forgotten.

St. Hilda's Chapter Entertains

St. Hilda's Chapter of the Western Star entertained the Grand Worthy Matron of the Order, Mrs. McClenaghan, of Lethbridge, on her official visit, and members of Janitorial and Olds Chapters on Tuesday night. The local Chapter exemplified the degrees of the order for the benefit of the C.W.M. after which she complimented them for their good work. The business of the evening being closed they all sat down to a light lunch and spent a social hour before dispersing for the night. Mrs. Parker R. Reed, Worthy Matron, occupied the chair, assisted by all the officers of the local Chapter.

Social Evening at Melvin School

Melvin School children and parents held a very successful Social Evening in the School House last Friday evening celebrating the opening up of their new addition to the same. A very large crowd gathered for the evening entertainment, some coming from as far south as Calgary. In fact the largest gathering that has been seen in the district for some days. A number of very useful household goods were sold by auction after which songs, recitations and a march were given by the children. The refreshments and dance then followed, and every one went home satisfied with the evening's enjoyable entertainment.

The death of Mr. Anton Engen took place at his home 20 miles east of Didsbury on Friday last, the funeral being conducted on Sunday. Mr. Engen was well known in Didsbury, having made this his trading center. He went to the store run by Bill Bailey in the north end of town a few years ago and amongst other things bought a barrel of salt. The clerk rolled the salt to the street but when it came to putting it into the wagon, which had a double box, it was too much for them. Mr. Engen took hold of the barrel alone and coolly lifted it up above his head and dropped it into the wagon. There are other stories of his great strength.

The section about eight miles east of Lonsdale which Mr. Oldham had been buying on, was sold last week by S. Downie and Sons, Carstairs, to Mr. Gilbert of Carstairs. Mr. Downie reports that there is quite a lot of land changing hands.

Mr. C. D. Carver, while in California where he went to attend his son Chauncey, contracted a very severe cold, resulting in pneumonia. He is now in a hospital at Napa, Cal., where he is gradually recovering from the same.

Chauncey Carver who was hurt in an automobile accident in Pasadena, Cal., is still in hospital and will have to remain for a month or more. He is doing as well as can be expected after such a serious accident.

Don C. Olson the telephone inspector of the Didsbury district, has resigned his position to take up residence at the coast. His complete house furnishings, which are of the best, including piano, will be sold by Public Auction October 16th, Sat. A bill of sale will appear later.

Miss Lila Rupp departed for Edmonton Sunday where she will take a course in pharmacy.

There will be a change in the C.P.R. train going south will leave at 2:25 p.m. and the evening south bound at 6:25 p.m. The other trains are practically the same.

The Coming Liquor Referendum

What is regarded by many as the final battle in the long war waged against the liquor traffic in Canada will be fought at the ballot boxes in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta on the 25th of October. The necessary machinery for the taking of the referendum vote on that date has already been set in motion and the compilation of the lists for qualified voters is in progress. The opposing forces are likewise lining up for the final test of strength.

Apart altogether from the opinions which may be held by readers of this paper on the question at issue, namely, whether bone-dry prohibition shall be made effective or not, it is clearly the duty of all citizens qualified to vote to make certain of the fact that their names are properly included in the voters' lists, and, equally so, it is the duty of all, regardless of the opinions held by them, to record their votes on October 25 on the question being submitted to the people.

In these three Prairie Provinces, prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes has for some years been in effect. There is, however, nothing to prevent a person in any one of these Provinces from buying liquor in another Province and having it shipped to him for his personal use. The result is, of course, that while there is prohibition in name, and actual prohibition of local sale, there is no truly effective prohibition of the use of intoxicants.

Through the votes cast by them in the referendum on October 25 the men and women of Western Canada are to decide whether, in addition to prohibition of local sale within a Province, there shall be prohibition of importation of liquor into any one Province from any other Province or country. In other words, whether it shall be made illegal for any person to obtain liquor in any manner whatsoever, except in very limited quantities on a doctor's prescription.

In the referendum on October 25 the following form of ballot will be used:

Shall the importation or bringing of intoxicating liquors into the Province be forbidden?	NO
Shall the importation or bringing of intoxicating liquors into the Province be forbidden?	YES

The voter who is in favor of absolute prohibition will place an X in the space opposite the word "Yes"; the voter who is in favor of allowing liquor to come into the Province as at present will place an X in the space opposite the word "No." In other words, a person votes "Yes" if he favors bone-dry prohibition, he votes "No" if he desires that importation shall continue.

Without pretending to say in this article how people shall vote, or even expressing an opinion as to the course of action which in the light of past experiences would seem to be the wisest course to follow in the interests of all, one thing can and should be said with all the emphasis that can possibly be laid upon it. It is this:

Men and women should mark their ballots in such a way as to express their honest convictions on this question in order that the vote on October 25 may be a true expression of the will of the people. A vote for bone-dry prohibition should be a positive declaration on the part of the voter that he or she will absolutely refrain from the use of intoxicating liquors, that they will make no attempt to secure such liquors, that they will throw the whole weight of their influence in the direction of seeing that the law they thus ask for is lived up to and rigidly enforced. "Yes" vote should be a pledge on the part of the voter to assist the officers of the law to efficiently enforce that law.

The time for camouflage is past. There should be no more hypocrisy, with a person voting one way and acting another. If the majority vote is to forbid importation of liquor, then the Government and officers of the law ought to be assured that they can count upon the men and women who make up that majority to assist them in every way to make the law fully effective and a success.

The man who votes for bone-dry prohibition and proceeds at the same time to stock up his cellar in advance with liquor is a hypocrite. The man or woman who votes for bone-dry prohibition, and later writes to the Government or the police stating that "So-and-so" is violating the law but that their names must not be used as informants and that they will not give evidence which may be in their possession in order to convict, is a coward and not a sincere prohibitionist.

The referendum vote on October 25 should be regarded as a clear-cut show-down on this question.

BUNIONS NO JOKE

Not to the man who has to move about, but a slight application of "Putnam's" softens the thickest tissue and cures the bunion quickly. Just as good for warts, lumps and calluses is Putnam's Painless Corn Extract. Use no other, 25c at all dealers.

The Rebound Courtiers.

Driggs—Ought a man to give up his strap in a surface car to a lady? Griggs—Certainly. If she is young and handsome, he may be forced to cling to her going around a curve.

WHEN BABY IS CROSS

Mothers, when your baby is cross—when he cries a great deal and no amount of attention or petting cheers him—something is the matter. It is not the nature of little ones to be cross and pensive—the well child is a happy child. Give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and he will soon be well again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and relieve the other minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Oscar Redard, Ste. Sophie, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent remedy for constipation. They relieved my little one when nothing else would, and I can strongly recommend them to all mothers. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Elevator Charges Up.

According to Hon. Geo. Langley, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Director of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co., as a result of representations made to the Board of Grain Commissioners by the elevator men, a reasonable advance in storage charges that may be made by local and terminal elevators will be considered by the commissioners this year.

Peevish, pale, restless and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Expeller will relieve them and restore health.

Many a man who is whole-sanded on the surface wouldn't stand probing.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Kionna's Electric Oil possesses more power in concentrated form than one hundred times the quantity of many unguents. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

After all, there is a good deal of humanity in human nature.

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER contains no alum or egg albumen and is guaranteed to be composed of the ingredients printed on the label—and none other. Made in Canada By Canadians For Canadians

The Color of Your Eyes

Where the Baby Gets His Blue Eyes From.

Where baby gets his blue eyes from is said to have been discovered by Dr. H. Bryn, of Norway.

After examining 834 persons, Dr. Bryn found that when all the parents and grandparents had blue eyes, all the children were blue-eyed, while when some of the grandparents' eyes were brown, only about 90 out of 100 of the children had blue eyes.

If both parents had blue eyes only 70 per cent. of the children had eyes of the same color, the remaining 25 per cent. being blue. If one parent was blue-eyed and the other brown-eyed, blue and brown eyes were equally divided among the children.

Fox Farming Pays.

What farm industry pays better than breeding foxes?

Last spring an average of four to a litter raised was reported from the ranches heard from. That means between two and three thousand dollars to a pair of foxes!

Some of the old-timers in the business have from seventy-five to two hundred youngsters on their ranches. As these men breed only foxes of good quality, it is safe to estimate the value of the pups at $500 to $750 apiece.

Evidently there is money in the business.

Helium in Canada.

Prof. McLennan, who was sent to Canada recently by the British Admiralty to devise a method of securing helium from natural gases, has reported that Alberta alone can supply over ten million cubic feet of helium annually, and other parts of the Empire another two million cubic feet. This quantity, he estimates, is sufficient to maintain a considerable number of airships, that cannot be brought down by airplane attack in the usual manner. Helium is a rare element, with a lifting power second only to hydrogen, and is non-inflammable. It can also be obtained in generous quantities in New Brunswick.

Daring Robbery

Did you ever stop to think what a funny old world this is after all. We may go to a show and sit there and thrill as the bandit or villain which, over he may be, holds up a cashier, takes the money and gets away and then the excitement of the chase. We laugh after the show and say what nonsense, so utterly impossible, but wait that is just what happened to a crowd in the Regent Theatre, Cal. gary on Monday night.

While the crowd was watching the comedy on the screen below two robbers, one of whom wore masked, waited in the cashiers room on the second floor of the Regent. About 10:30 the cashier came up to put the money in the safe and immediately found himself looking down the barrels of two revolvers. He was ordered to put up his hands and of course the money dropped to the floor and was confiscated. He was then told to keep quiet, bound and gagged with sticking plaster and then after testing his ropes and the lock on the door the robbers coolly left the building.

The cashier soon succeeded in working of the sticking plaster and his noise called the attention of a Doctor in the next room who notified the police and in side of seven minutes the police and several thousand people were gathered round the building but the birds had flown with about seven or eight hundred dollars and forgot to leave a clue.

So after all life is just a continual moving target with all the comical and tragedies that we read about and watch on the screen the only difference being that on the screen we see it all life it goes on behind our backs.

Love of The Wild

"That's the story the sailor told me," he said grimly. "I've been thinking of that poor woman all day. Poor little thing—sick and dying among strangers. And that man—think of what he did, Smythe. Could you imagine any man being so inhuman?"

Smythe sat huddled up on his chair. "How long ago did this happen?" he asked.

"It was nineteen years ago, maybe twenty. There's no doubt about the baby being dead long ago. Of course, the Indian would reason that it was less trouble to let the baby die than it was to keep it alive."

The Colonel locked his hands behind his head and paced up and down the room. He paused before Smythe at last and looked down upon him with misty eyes.

"I guess I'm not very well," he said with a short laugh, "why, this thing happened twenty years ago; and maybe after all the sailor was lying."

Mr. Smythe raised his head. "Sailors have a habit of lying," he agreed.

The door opened and Sancho burst into the room.

"I put de boss into de stable, Master Smith," he cried.

"Why, who had your horse, Smythe?" asked Halibut.

Smythe's weary eyes shifted from the big man to Sancho.

"I found him," he told Alexander Wilson this morning," he faltered.

"That's funny," returned the Colonel, "and Wilson driving a good oxen as I was coming in. See, Sancho, find me just like a good fellow. I want to push it."

Just an hour after the death of Halibut's horse had died away.

Wilson kept into the room. He was breathing hard and his swarthy face was brown and haggard.

Mr. Smythe wisely asked no questions.

"The agent came into a bar before the fire. He sat huddled in his pocket and from it finally drew out a leather wallet. He opened it and extracted from it a photograph. He held it out in a shaking hand and looked at it again."

RED PIMPLES ITCHED TERRIBLY

On Chest, Face, Arms, Burned
Badly, Cuticura Heals.

"Ever since I can remember, my chest, face, and arms were filled with dry, red pimples. They were scattered all over me, and itched terribly at times, and I scratched them, causing them to fester and get sore. Sometimes they would dry away and form scales which burned badly."

"Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had used them two or three times when I felt better and I was healed with one box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Miss Bertha Kana, Russell, Manitoba, February 19, 1912.

Small Cuticura Soap always within reach.

"I've hung on to this," he faltered, "because you thought we ought to keep it—because you thought if the baby was alive we might know it from this license number."

Smythe nodded, and Watson leaned forward and put the photograph in the red coat.

"You were right," he shivered. "I found it. I found it to-day, and I found it in the hands of the mother."

Smythe glanced fearfully at the smiling Sancho in the corner.

"Where was she?" he asked in an awed whisper.

Watson did not reply. He picked up the poker and bent above the fire. The cardboard he had tossed in the coals lay there charred and curled. As he gazed upon it, fascinated, a little baby flame sprang out and kissed it to glowing life so that from it a face flashed out, sweet, glad and triumphant. Then a breeze from the Wild swooned down the wide chimney and carried it away.

CHAPTER XI.

The Wild of the Wild.

Colonel Halibut rode the lone trail, his hands at his heels. A great moon dragged across a spindly, crumpled sky, low down above the blacked-out forest. The wind had died, and the night was still, except for the calls of the forest things that voice the hours and joy at night. There were the low "whoops" of the owls, the "herra-perrs" of the night-hawks and away far down toward the westward came, now and again, a fluted call dying in a wail that bespoke the lynx's successful stalking. Deeper down in the forest a stray timber-wolf called hoarsely to a wandering pack. Again the call was answered faintly, but clearly, far above; and then a new note came into the strayer's voice, and the yelp was sharper, clearer than before.

Colonel Halibut rode on, his head low and his rifle thrown across his saddle-pommel. Occasionally his lips moved and he sat erect with a jerk.

"Hate me, do they?" he mused. "I wonder why? And I wonder why I should care? I am growing old and fanciful, I guess. Thank God I have time—and a few is a true friend."

The thin moon dropped down behind the heavy fringe and the night blackened to the trail marked.

"I don't know but I've made a mistake in making Watson and Smythe my agents," thought the man, "but I can't trust either of them, and—"

From far ahead there came again the long, low cry of a wolf, not an undulating cry, but the long-drawn, unvarying note that bespoke the rejoicing of the pack. Halibut lifted his head and half-remembered in his heart.

"How, you devil," he cried. Then he stopped the horse's neck with the rein. "If it were midnight now he would be snoring, shrugging his shoulders. I wouldn't just sit it safe in this road hold."

Miles of the trail still lay before him—miles of lonely land. But the trail was in the Wild, he had ridden the night trail many, many times. Still the life had taught him caution. He knew that in mid-winter, when the food was scarce, the timber-wolves grew fearful and were bad company. In winter he would not have thought of journeying on this trail alone. But it was but a short run now, and he gave himself the shrewdest thought of danger, but rode boldly on.

The Colonel was the big man of his particular day. The village of St. Thomas, miles away, he practically owned as well as the greater portion of the partly cleared land surrounding it. St. Thomas was simply a drab-colored blotch on the Wild as yet, but the lake lay close to it and natural resources promised to make of the half-cleared country about it a great land some day not far future. Halibut owned the grand home of the country-side, a big, rambling house of planned boards, with wide rooms and tiled hallways.

It sat on the crest of a hill among a grove of luterbarns, and near it stood the stables and kennels, famous far and near.

Houses were a rarity in those old days, but in Colonel Halibut's stable-ride some of the best blood-horses of the time. He loved riding and he loved the chase. Being of English lineage, he had adopted the custom of his homeland and carried them to the limit. His collar contained bitter ale, beer and choice wines. He loved to sit beside his wide fireplace with his long pipe alight, a mug at his elbow, and hounds snoring about him, and there dream, with his pipe, of the events of the day's chase. He was a power in his land. No man dared to disobey his command. He held more than money power; he represented the law as well. He was a monopolist.

He had secured land for the asking; land for a pittance; land for an hour or two of patient head-work. He owned thousands of acres. The scarcity of hard timber, occasioned by heavy northern forest fires, had recently enhanced its price so materially that one thousand acres of prime hardwood was worth a small fortune, provided there were facilities for shipping the timber.

Halibut owned the facilities in the shape of a trim schooner, which he now felt he could use to advantage for he had long realized the wealth it would in those leanly-fitted riders of the bushwhackers. Having seen to it great maple and birch, the magnificent walnut and the yellow and black and white oak, now worth many dollars a thousand, Halibut was willing to pay a good price for the timber. He had purchased a strip of timber along Lee Creek across from the bushwhackers, and erected a portable mill there.

In order to show the bushwhackers that he wished to be neighborly, the big man had built them a school-house and supplied a teacher for it, in doing which he felt that he had been actuated by pure humanity, without thought of gain.

But the Colonel was finding out that the bushwhackers resented his advances of friendship, and he wondered why. Now they were threatening him, and they must learn that he did not fear them.

The Colonel had never married, but kept as his housekeeper an old-country woman of advanced years. Her name was Davis, and her grown-up son, Dick, lived with them and looked after the kennels and stables.

Aster as he appeared to be to the people in village and country-side, Colonel Halibut was in reality a man of great and generous impulses. He was a man of reserve, for in his heart rested a pitiful little story—pitiful because so simple.

Opinion of U.F.A. President

Says Economical Marketing of Wheat Would Offset Rate Increase.

Calgary.—"If the wheat board had been continued for another year, the whole of the increased burden of freight rates on wheat from the western provinces to Port William would have been more than offset by the saving which has been effected by the economical marketing of the wheat crop."

Such was the opinion expressed by H. W. Woods, president of the U.F.A. President Woods' estimate is based on the report of the Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa, of a total wheat crop of 258,000,000 bushels in the three prairie provinces. The average increase in the freight rates would have been offset in this manner, he stated.

All amounts of over $100 are being collected through the department of the secretary of state and are being turned over to the British Government to be transmitted to their German destination. It was stated at the offices of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that several firms have such debts owing, in some cases running into large amounts of money.

Wives and Mothers Need Not Have Sore Backaches

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and excited family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories and on a farm are weak, ailing women, dragged down with aching backaches and burning pains.

Such suffering need not be endured but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The chronic, infectious and other symptoms of kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities, debility is well known.

SOVIETS ARE NOW CAUSING TROUBLE IN ITALY

TO GIVE LABOR MOVEMENT POLITICAL CHARACTER.

Metal Workers Are Getting Support From Soviet Russia to Enlarge Powers.

Rome.—The metal workers' movement was early taken advantage of by the supporters of Soviet Russia in Italy as the basis of a political movement to force Italian recognition of the Moscow Government, according to a document published by the Tribunal. The document, of which the Tribunal says it guarantees the authenticity, provides for permanent socialist conditions and is addressed to the Legion of Red Guards at Torre Annunziata, near Naples, asking the Legion to communicate with the greatest organization ever known.

"Taking the favorable opportunity afforded by the vast movement of the metal workers," the document added, "it has been decided to enlarge the movement, giving it a political character."

The document bore the signature, "Vella."

Milano.—The consideration of labor unions that it has no intention of waiting on the will of the masters.

The only solution possible is acceptance of the metal workers' proposal for collaboration in the management of the various industries, and if the employers do not soon decide in this sense, it is declared that economic measures will be adopted to intensify the agitation.

Alberta's Big Crop

Bumper Yield of 1915 May Be Increased Four-Fold in Value.

Calgary.—The Herald says today: Alberta's wheat crop in 1915 was sixty million bushels, valued at $50,000,000. In 1914, it yielded 34,575,000 valued at $64,349,000. The largest federal official estimate of this year's crop is 82,972,000 which, taken at $260 a bushel, will bring Alberta farmers the huge sum of $21,572,320. This means in other words that the bumper yield of 1915 will this year be increased over fourfold in monetary value, assuming that approximately the present price of wheat holds.

Curlers to Sail on Dec. 30.

SHORT OF BREATH Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there comes a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, dizziness, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart being considerably weakened or the nervous system suffering, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk, could not leave the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking along three boxes. I am now quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

More From Income Taxes

Anticipate Increase From Higher Rates and Improved Methods of Collection.

Winnipeg.—A special despatch to the Free Press from its Ottawa correspondent reads: A $15,000,000 increase in the receipts of the federal income tax is estimated for the current fiscal year which ends on March 31 next. Last year's total revenue from this source approximated $20,000,000. This year it will approximate $35,000,000.

To the higher rates, a wider incidence and improved methods of collection are attributed the increase. Under the former act prosecutions were both difficult and costly. Under the act as amended last session, they have been much facilitated. A large number of prosecutions have been quietly instituted during the summer, and the effect has been to bring speedy and prompt reply to warning letters addressed to others. As a consequence receipts have much improved.

A staff of 30 auditors is being appointed this week to check up the sales taxes throughout the country.

Reorganize Anzac Navy.

London.—Messages from Sydney say that the Australian navy reorganization is proceeding. Several ships will be scrapped and it is proposed to abandon the naval college, though this is strenuously opposed.

WOULD PREVENT FREIGHT CARS CROSSING BORDER

RAILWAYS PREPARING FOR HEAVY CROP MOVEMENT.

Must Keep Rolling Stock at Home to Guard Against Grain Blockade.

Ottawa.—In view of the particularly heavy crop movement from the western province during the next few months, extra precautions are being taken by the management of the Government and other systems of railways to keep Canadian freight cars on this side of the border.

At the present time there is a car shortage in the United States of 600,000 cars and when a Canadian car is permitted to cross the line, it is practically impossible to have it returned. The daily charge for retained cars from Canada was sometime ago increased, but this has made no difference, the American railways being quite willing to pay the extra charge for the use of the cars. The necessity of keeping Canadian rolling stock at home if a grain blockade is to be prevented when the eastward wheat movement is at its height, is recognized and even at the best there is likely to be considerable congestion it is thought.

LIFE INSURANCE

The following letter is a copy forwarded by the General Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada to the Secretary of the Life Underwriters:

Montreal, August 11th, 1920.
Geo. H. Hunt, Esq.,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of the 10th inst., in reference to the value of life insurance, I may say that our confidence in a borrower is always enhanced by the fact that he carries a life insurance policy. The wisdom of providing for unforeseen contingencies is an indication of conservatism. Partnership and individual insurance policies assigned to the bank as collateral security for advances, have frequently saved the bank from loss when there was no other visible source of repayment, and saved the man's family from the stigma of debt. Yours truly,

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 29, 1920

Have you taken a trip through this district during the last few days? If not, especially to the west of town you are missing one of the best sights that you have seen this year and if you don't take it soon you will not see it all. After all the anxiety of the last few weeks as to whether the hail storms or frost would clean out the crops, with a few exceptions there never was a better looking display of grain in sheaves in this district. Mile after mile you see them in heavy streaks plump, ripe and of splendid color, with here and there some green stuff grown for feed. The threshing gangs are getting very busy so that this won't last long. Then again, the gradual coming of fall weather has turned the leaves of the trees and shrubs with their berries into one of the prettiest sights imaginable. It needs the pen of a real poet to describe the scene with its innumerable colors and gives one a feeling that although this is the sign of the decaying year that is also the sign of a splendid end of a season that has been beautiful in all things. Again there is a reminder in all you see that this should be a season of thanksgiving to the Almighty for the benefits that will come from such a bountiful crop and for the blessing any one will receive by just opening their eyes to the glories of nature. Yes, it will pay you to take a trip and use your eyes if you do it very soon.

When You Are Milking The Cow

Remember first she is a thing of charm, She makes the farmer's life more sweet,
She lifts the mortgage from the farm; And sets him down on easy street.

Reliable and faithful as she is, she also knows that she must co-operate and have a REAL HOME FRIEND who will manufacture her product in her own home locality, sell the finished product to the far off consumer, and tell them that these famous cows and the rich soil that feeds them are in the Didsbury district.

Confidence

The most valued factor in the success of our business is the confidence the public has in it.

Satisfaction

We want to satisfy our customers from the time they are milking the cow until they are banking our cheques for the milk or cream.

Now, Mr. Cow Owner, you are the middle man. Will you bring us the Milk & Cream that she has so ungrudgingly entrusted you with?

We thank you in advance for same and guarantee to always pay you the HIGHEST MARKET PRICES.

The Beauty of a Clear Skin.—The condition of the liver regulates the condition of the blood. A disorder of liver causes impurities in the blood and these show themselves in blemishes on the skin. "Barnes' Vegetable Pills" in acting upon the liver act upon the blood and a clear, healthy skin will follow intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies, who will fully appreciate this prime quality of these pills, can use them with the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

DOES this illustration picture your experience? What is more distressing than being unable to sleep? Sleeplessness is one of the first and most certain symptoms of exhausted nerves.

This is the warning that you need the assistance of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore vigor to the nerve cells and thereby avoid the development of serious nervous trouble.

Miss Vanity is Very Old

Ancient Egyptians Extravagant in the Matter of Toilet Requisites.

The Egyptian belle of 5000 B.C. was no less extravagant in the matter of toilet requisites than is the beauty of today. She required among other things, a long stone palette with a hollow in the centre, in which to mix her green eye-paint. This palette also held a very delicate sea-shell, wherein she mixed the paint with the necessary grease for stiffening her eyelashes; ivory hair-pins which rivaled in length the hair-pins of the present day, and quaint ivory combs. All these articles were shown at an exhibition in London of the trophies dug up by the members of the Egypt exploration fund. There was also a small red clay of a face, with green paint bringing the eyes into extraordinary prominence.

The housewife of seven thousand years ago had household goods similar to those of the housewife of today. She had copper pans and strainers, stone blades, wooden bowls and copper mirrors, and to decorate her home she acquired alabaster vases and painted pottery vases.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms and in the cities and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, who can tell you of some pneumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable, tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the diseases in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent, people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lancaster county, N.S., says: "I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and an expert in the matter of the year for very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Importance of Flax.

In 1914 thirteen mills for retting and scouring flax were in operation in Canada; at present there are sixty-four all in Ontario and Quebec. The most important development has taken place in Western Ontario. In 1919 there were 2,400 tons produced worth $5,000,000, or with the seed $6,000,000. This does not include the flax seed grown in the Canadian West, where up to the present time flax straw has not been utilized. It has now been demonstrated that in Canada a fibre of most desirable quality can be grown.

HOME-MADE BREAD
Home bread-making reduces the high cost of living by lessening the amount of expensive meats required to supply the necessary nourishment to the body. The increased nutritious value of bread made in the home with

ROYAL YEAST CAKES
should be sufficient incentive to the thoughtful housewife to give this important food item the attention to which it is justly entitled. Bread made with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other.

Apple Crop in Quebec.

It is estimated that the apple crop this year in the Province of Quebec will total 100,000 barrels, or more than 25 per cent. increase over last year's production. The quality of the crop has never been better.

Some wise old saws have lost their teeth.

Miller's Worm Powders are par excellence the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and, at the same time, they are tonic in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and insuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

Fortunes in Fish.

It is estimated that the salmon pack in British Columbia will be worth $12,000,000 this year. The runs have been particularly good in the Fraser River and in the rivers of the Northern part of the Province.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for years and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

The wigwam was sufficient for the Indian because he only spent his sleeping hours in it. In other words, his primitive home was merely a shelter. What a difference there is in the home of today, and especially the farm home! It is not only a shelter, but is, in addition, the center of the farm activities, both business and pleasure; in it the housekeeper spends most of her time preparing the meals and performing the duties which make it home to her husband and the family, and upon it depend the contentment and joy of the family life.

AROUND THE TOWN

Miss Merle Bubank who was on the teaching staff here for some time left last Friday for the University of Alberta where she is going to take up a course in Arts.

Mr. Clarence Hembling of Oynab D. O. formerly a native of this city, was a visitor in the town and district for a couple of days last week, looking up old friends and relatives. He is on his way back to Brandon where he is attending college but reports that Didsbury is as nice a town as you can want and would like to be back here again.

Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Butler spent last week in Banff on a very enjoyable holiday.

Mrs. Nichol of Enderby B. C. was visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of Westcott for a few days last week. Miss Lily Rupp who has for the last several years been assistant druggist to Mr. H. W. Chambers left on Sunday last for Edmonton, where she is going to make up a drugists course in the University of Alberta. Besides being a druggist Miss Rupp was past master in the art of selling ice cream and confectionery and are sure that the public will miss her. Mr. Everard Clarke has taken the position as clerk there now.

Mrs. Talbot has had as her guest over the week end Miss P. Wright of Calgary.

Mrs. J. Henderson of Kenora, Ont., and Mrs. S. Smith of Calgary spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. A. A. Talbot.

Editor H. E. Osmond is, unfortunately, not able to be on the job this week. The assistant editor, the job man, the "devil" and the office cat are responsible for this sheet. If there is anything in it of which you don't approve, tell it to Sweeney.

We were out east of town on Sunday and saw some wonderful wheat. After this wheat was threshed it was put in the granary, but the kernels were so big and heavy that they sank the granary into the ground right up to the eaves. If it hadn't been for the eaves the building would no doubt have been going yet. Some wheat!

Chief Sick grabbed from the kids last week a few batteries of machine guns similar to the one with which David snuffed Goliath's candle. Some of them were most ingenious contrivances.

We noticed a story in a magazine the other day entitled "Get Rich Quick. Get poor Quicker." Just give us a chance to get rich quick and we will attend to the getting poor operation.

And if we ever do get rich, either quick or in a slow and dignified manner, we are going to invest in an extra pair of suspenders for our other pants.

It has been rumored that some people are objecting to the barber shop being conducted in the hotel. This is so absurd and ridiculous that it takes our credulity to believe it, but if it is true, for the love of Mike where would these people have a barber shop, in a millinery store or a livery barn.

We understand that our popular townsman, Bill Perrington, has severed his connection with the movies here on account of the poor patronage received. Now if Bill had followed the suggestion made recently by one of this fair and noble burg's progressive young men, he would be drinking lemonade and eating salted peanuts and not curing a soap for expenses. The brilliant suggestion promulgated by the above mentioned prodigy was this: Charge $1.00 admission to the show and give with each ticket purchased a hooker of whoop'n' it be a "grand and glorious feeling" to take about six non-alcoholic absorbing friends to the movie.
